Indian Market – An Overview

The flooring market in India is experiencing steady growth, driven by rapid urbanization, industrialization, and an increasing focus on high-quality, durable, and cost-effective flooring solutions. In 2024, the Indian construction is valued at approximately US$ 126 billion, with a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 8 to 9% from 2024 to 2028.

India's infrastructural boom, bolstered by mega-projects across the nation, is expected to fuel further growth in flooring demand. Additionally, consumers increasingly seek flooring options that combine aesthetics, durability, and eco-friendliness, further propelling innovations in the market. The growing demand for resilient, low-maintenance, and aesthetically pleasing flooring ensures that the market will continue to expand, making India a critical global hub for the flooring industry.

Why Hyderabad!

Hyderabad has rapidly emerged as one of India's leading urban centers, making it an ideal location for the inaugural Global Flooring Solutions Expo (GFLOOR) in 2025.

The city's booming real estate sector, driven by rapid urbanization and infrastructural development, offers an enormous opportunity for the flooring industry to tap into a burgeoning market. With an anticipated addition of 40 million square feet of Grade A office space by the end of 2025, Hyderabad is witnessing unparalleled growth, surpassing major hubs like Bengaluru and Mumbai. This expansion is primarily fueled by increased demand from the IT, business process management, pharmaceutical, and life sciences sectors. Such growth directly translates into a rising demand for innovative, durable, and sustainable flooring solutions across residential, commercial, and industrial spaces.

Hyderabad's strategic connectivity by air, road, and rail to all major cities across India, along with its well-established flooring industry presence, positions it perfectly for an exhibition of this scale.

Additionally, with the nation's robust economic growth and evolving consumer preferences particularly for luxury, sustainable, and durable flooring options, GFLOOR offers the perfect platform for exhibitors to showcase their latest products and solutions, and tap into the rapidly expanding Pan India market.
